

Tuesday Session 3
Best Practices, Opportunities and Challenges in Engagement of Indigenous Peoples in the Nuclear Industry

Objective:

Virtually all major development projects in Canada today require involvement extensive involvement with Indigenous Peoples. Panel participants will discuss best practices, opportunities and challenges in engaging First Nation and the Métis peoples. Specific topics of discussion will include best practices, opportunities, and challenges related to community engagement and communications, interweaving of traditional knowledge, and partnering among First Nation, Metis and municipal communities.

Chair – Bob Watts, Associate Vice-President of Aboriginal Relations at the WMO

Panelists

Diane Longboat, Six Nations of the Grand River, Member of Elders Council for NWMO

Jessica Perritt, Indigenous Knowledge Coordinator, Aboriginal Relations, NWMO

Darrel Bunrouf, Manager Northern Affairs, Cameco

Randall Kahgee BA, LL.B, Saugeen Ojibway Nation